AN EXPERIENCE OF A LIFETIME OBSERVING RESCUED ELEPHANTS IN THEIR NATURAL HABITAT

Inspired by the world-famous Elephant Nature Park in Chiang Mai and featured in National Geographic, we are pioneers of ethical elephant tourism on the island, offering 30 acres of lush, tropical land for elephants to rehabilitate and return to forest life.

EXPLORE HOW WE'RE DIFFERENT

30 Acres of Natural Habitat

Elephants thrive in 30 acres of lush jungle, showcasing their natural behaviors in a wild-like environment.

A True Lifetime Sanctuary

We purchase all elephants and never rent, ensuring Phuket Elephant Sanctuary is their final home.

Thailand's Longest Canopy Walkway

View elephants from our expansive walkway, offering unique perspectives while preserving their freedom.

Respectful Observation

Observe from a distance in a fully hands-off environment - no feeding, no bathing, no direct interaction - allowing elephants to behave on their own terms.

Phuket's First Elephant Hospital

This facility provides full-time veterinary care for our elephants and others in need across Southern Thailand.
